PROOF SHEET

Roll 22 Frame 2 February 2014

OCPA Photographer starts the year right!

January is starting with a smile. First I have a photographic image chosen at Black Box Gallery in Portland for their New Color Photography exhibition. Now I get 2 seconds at Art By The Sea in Bandon for their photography show. Yes, I am smiling. — at Art by the Sea Gallery and Studio. ~Pat Stannard

The OCPA Receives Recognition on Oregon Live.

by Chris Malone

During our big freeze here on the coast mid-December I made numerous trips around the area with fellow friends and photographers trying to capture all the various attractions brought on by the cold weather and ice.

I managed to get some interesting shots of the Shore Acres Fountain both during the day and night, and a couple of these images caught the attention of an old school mate that is a staff photo journalist for the Oregonian newspaper named Thomas Boyd, or Tom as he was known in school. Tom sent me a message on Facebook and asked how I would feel about him publishing my photos, and article and information about the OCPA on the Oregonians website called Oregon Live? Well, I told him that would be the best Christmas present ever! Tom wrote a very nice little article that featured a write up about our club and my website; he is very impressed with the amateur talent that camera clubs produce.

Tom wrote, "Not all the interesting photography in Oregon is done by professionals. Advanced amateurs are out there working very hard to improve their skills and make good photographs. Many of them organize into clubs or online groups." Tom goes on to describe the OCPA and a few other sources he admires in the article. I was simply thrilled to have our club and my website showcased and featured in this way, it is great publicity!

If you would like to read the article online you can either type out this long link in your browser or visit the OCPA Facebook page and look for a link to the article that I shared there last month.

Laurel Tofflemire

It is with sadness that I report former OCPA member Laurel Tofflemire has passed away. Her friend Liz called me on Jan. 30th and asked that I let the club know. Laurel was known for her outstanding bird photography and love of animals. She was a dog groomer in Coos Bay and had many friends throughout the region. She will be missed.

We have 2200.00 of advertising dollars with Bi Coastal media. Ideas to advertise: History of Club, PV Mall show, Meeting times and dates, Website, Facebook etc. Kathy and Chris will work on this.

Spring Scavenger hunt will be a little different this year. We are going to have a list that has site specific words. It will be interesting to get everyone's different perspectives on the same site specific "subject". Will be a month long shoot. Shooting time will be March 3rd until turn in April 7th. Voting will be April 25th and Awards will be May 5th. Carol would really like some help with this as it's very time consuming for one person.

Club photobook has a March deadline for pictures. If we don't get enough participation or interest this will be dropped.

New Business:

Fair committee meeting will be at the Todd's on Saturday, Feb 9th @ 2:00 pm. We need more fair committee persons.

Our club is the judging club for 4 C's Monochrome prints in February. Place, date and time TBA.

Respectfully Submitted,

Renee' Marcov, OCPA Board Secretary

LAST CHANCE TO ENTER IMAGES TO CLUB PHOTO BOOK

Once again we are trying to generate interest in putting together a photo book that represents the work of member of OCPA. We would like to have a digital image of each winner in the 2012-2013 competition year for EID and prints. Plus, if you have a photo you would like to have included in the book, send it along. It doesn't have to be a winner or even one we have seen before. Dimension of the longest side should not exceed 3675 pixels and color space should be sRGB. Please either email your images to me or bring a CD of them to a meeting. Cost of the book will be about $30.

Thank you, Elise Ciraolo

Images must be received by March 3, 2014!!!!
